Scott DeGaro, Post President

By completing and retaining this certificate, the participant named above certifies that they attended the session described. The SAME Savannah Post confirms only that the meeting and session were held as stated. The Post is not a board-approved continuing education provider in any state, does not verify individual attendance, and certifies nothing to any licensing board. The signed sign-in sheet retained by the Post is the Post's attendance record. The attendee is responsible for applying for their own PDHs and for confirming that this record satisfies the requirements of their own licensing board.
